The Ohio State Fair gave this year less than $200 in premiums for fine wool sheep.

Is Ohio Democrats are turning out to Third Party meetings to swell the crowd.

The Fair did not fail because there was too much of fortune there. The Fair was a great success, and those who desired to try their luck at the wheel found their opportunity in town.

GRANT MONUMENT.

Governor Cornell's suggestion of the form it should assume.

New York, Sept. 12.—Subscriptions to the Grant monument fund to-day were $1,177, including $1,000 from James S. Morgan, the Paris banker.

The Brooklyn Magazine, in its next issue, will publish an article by Hon. A. B. Cornell, Chairman of the Executive Committee, giving his views as to what form the proposed memorial should assume.

First—A majestic column of appropriate design, containing a memorial chapel, within which shall be deposited the mortal remains of the illustrious dead.

Second—A library containing especially the writings of General Grant and of others concerning his military and civil administration, and his travels; also a complete collection of publications concerning the late war; also upon American history.

Third—A museum for the deposit of relics and mementoes of the late civil war, as well as of our earlier conflicts, including specimens of implements of war of interest historically.

ROSSA'S DISCIPLES.

THE NEW YORK DYNAMITE FIENDS.

Who Shattered the Windows of a Dry Goods Store, Tracked by Detectives are Brought to Justice After a Long Search.

New York, Sept. 13.—The windows of the dry goods store of Garry Bros., at Grand and Allen streets, were shattered by an explosion of dynamite on the 1st of February, and the explosion was supposed to have been instigated by disaffected dry goods clerks.

A combination of dry goods clerks known as the Equal Association, holds its meetings at Orchard Hall, a saloon kept by Michael Gersten, at 83 Orchard street.

It was suspected that one or more members of the landlord's family knew much about the crime. Sometimes after the explosion a stranger began frequent visits to Gersten's saloon and obtained from the sons of the proprietor the fact that they had heard threats that Garry Bros. should be blown up the same as the dynamites in London blow up the Parliament house.

On the night of the explosion a package and the saloon and the landlord one of the Gersten boys a package and asked him to give it to David J. Naughton, who was one of the men then in secret session.

Presently Naughton came down stairs accompanied by David and Fitzpatrick. Naughton asked if a parcel had been left for him and the package was handed over.

Naughton and his companions then went out, followed, however, by David and Frank Gersten. Naughton took the package and went to a saloon where Gersten was then placing something besides the window sash, after which David and Naughton ran away, while Fitzpatrick walked from the spot and was knocked down by the terrible explosion.

THE THIEVING OFFICERS.

Crooked Work Exposed in the New York Custom House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—There seems to be a good chance for reforming the reformed New York Custom-house.

Complaint has been made to the Treasury Department by a Mr. Ferguson, of Philadelphia, member of a well known firm, of the treatment which he and Charles Thacker, of the firm of The Sons & Co., were subjected to, upon arrival at New York from a recent European trip.

Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Thacker, with some friends, arrived on the steamer Westernland early in the evening of August 11. When they landed they were met by a customs officer who asked them to have their baggage examined, so they proceeded to Philadelphia at once, as Mr. Ferguson was then suffering greatly with a severe pain in his leg, which turned out to be erysipelas.

At the quarantine station informed the gentlemen that their baggage could not be examined until the next day. A special agent of the Treasury Department called Mr. Ferguson and informed him that he was accused of attempting to smuggle a lot of diamonds through the Custom House. Mr. Ferguson indignantly denied the charge and demanded to have the baggage examined.

The agent finally acknowledged that there must be a mistake. He was accused of attempting to smuggle a lot of diamonds through the Custom House. Mr. Ferguson indignantly denied the charge and demanded to have the baggage examined.

Commercial Statistics.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports the total valuation of the exports of domestic products for the month of August as follows:

Exports of cotton were as follows:

Total for twelve months ending August 31, 1885, $1,262,701,182.70.

The exports of mineral oils were as follows:

Total for twelve months ending August 31, 1885, $1,262,701,182.70.

CLAY COUNTY'S SCOURGE.

The Peculiarly Fatal Disease that is Raging in that Region.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., September 12.—A correspondent has just returned from Sycamore Creek, Clay County, this State, where a contagious disease has been raging during the past six weeks.

The disease is diphtheritic dysentery, and is attributed to various causes. The first case spread from two parties who came into the district from Coal Valley. The disease then spread from parties who helped to bury children with the disease.

After returning home the disease broke out in that neighborhood. Wherever the disease broke out it was found that the person used impure water. The sanitary condition of the neighborhood is bad. The people are not provided with disinfectants. The disease is abating, however, and the last cases were mild. Four new cases were reported yesterday.

Exhibition Sealed.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Somewhat of a sensation has been caused by the development of certain scandals in the management of the Inventors' Exhibition.

It appears that a number of speculators have been allowed by the managers to take spaces in the hall and to then retail these valuable spaces out to the highest bidder.

Explosion of the Dam.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 13.—Yesterday afternoon while 150 men were at work in the Youngbushen Valley coal mines of the Ashtabula Coal Company, at Gaffey's Station, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, an explosion of fire damp occurred, fatally injuring William Bradley and seriously burning James Hamilton.

THE RECORD OF CRIME.

HACKED TO PIECES BY CHINESE.

A Man of Money Murdered by Low Companions—Two Italian Fruit Dealers, One in New York and One in Chicago, Use the Knife With Fatal Effect.

Lewistown, Idaho, Sept. 13.—D. M. Frazar, for twelve years Auditor of Soshone county, was found murdered in his lodgings in the rear of his store, at Pierce City. The body was hacked to pieces. The object was robbery. Blankets were hung over the windows and an unsuccessful attempt was made to blow open the safes. Tracks leading from the room indicate that the deed was done by Chinese.

Penalty of Being in Bad Company.

CLEVELAND, September 13.—At Bucyrus, Ohio, last night, William Jones was seen in a low resort with "Peggy" Hotelling and Joe Ide, two hard characters. He had considerable money in his pocket, and was drinking. This morning his dead body was found on the railroad track and his pockets empty. Hotelling and Ide have been placed under arrest to await the result of the coroner's inquest.

RUSSIA FORTIFYING.

And Strengthening Her Defenses on the Black Sea and Vindicty.

LONDON, September 12.—The Russian Government has decided to transfer the administration of its Black Sea fleet from Nikolai to Sebastopol. The harbor at the latter place is being much enlarged and immense works and other works of defense are being constructed around the approaches. The Czar is also organizing a new fleet to be stationed at Potom on the coast of the Black Sea.

Besides making the above changes in the Black Sea, the Russian Government is erecting batteries to defend the mouth of the Don against the attacks of 30,000 troops at Rostoff on the Don. These batteries and their accompanying defenses will connect the military works in the Caucasus with those in the Crimea.

At the London-Brooklyn game of September 10, Joe Miller's play at short is considered to have been simply wonderful. He was twice at bat, had two hits, six put outs, five assists and no errors.

The Pittsburgh Club has this season played in one 16 inning, two 14 inning, two 12 inning, and one 10 inning game, in each of them, excepting one of 13 inning, Morris has pitched.

Miller and McLaughlin, of the Louisville, have exchanged positions, Miller going to second and McLaughlin to short.

McLaughlin has been playing a good second but the local reporters thought our Joe could fill it better, so the change was made.

Don't miss the Crockett City-Globe game at the Fair Grounds to-day and tomorrow. Some fine sport will be furnished. The C. C. play strong ball and lately held the coming champions—the St. Louis Browns—down to a score of 12 to 7.

The Bellairs boys will make it very interesting for visitors and the contest will be worth seeing.

The St. Louis correspondent of the Philadelphia Sporting Life says that the Lucas team would long since have succeeded in reaching its proper place—tail end—had it not been for the play of J. V. Gurnea, Glascock, McKinnon and Quinn, insisted on playing remarkably good ball. These three men, together with Seery, Sweeney and Kirby, will be reserved for next season, and, if a deal can be accomplished, Dupuy will be traded for Farrell, of Providence.

Glascock's batting average up to September 1 was .205, a very fair showing, and a better one than any other short-stop in the League possesses. His fielding, however, at his particular strong hold, being 919 up to September 1, and being away in advance of any other short-stop in the League or the American Association. Jack deserves great credit for holding his own end up so well under trying circumstances.

There is still considerable talk about important changes for next year, notably that Cincinnati and Pittsburgh will be in the League in the places of Buffalo and Detroit, and that Washington will buy Providence's franchise and be one of the four Eastern teams. The Athletics are credited with having secured Bancroft, Ralston and Start; Hines is reported to be in Washington, along with the balance of the Providence players, and the desirable team in the Detroit and Browns will emigrate to Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. As Barney now claims to have purchased the Providence franchise, and as all parties named were being under such contracts, however, as to be abandoned claim, it will not do to tie to any of these reports.

The late joint meeting of the League and American Association agreed to enter into no contracts until after October 30, and unless this agreement has been generally violated the rumors current have no foundation in fact.

National Miners' Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 12.—The Miners' Convention concluded its business to-day and adjourned. Among other resolutions adopted to-day was one authorizing the Executive Secretary to draft an address to the mine operators of the country, asking for a joint meeting with the Executive Board, for the purpose of adopting measures for the betterment of such as to avoid strikes and lock-outs, and to give each party an increased profit from the sale of coal. A resolution, asking the President to call an extra session of Congress to consider the labor situation, was voted down.

HOW THEY STAND.

RACE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Chicago and St. Louis Still Show Up in the Front—Summary of Games Played up to Date—To-day's Crockett City-Globe Contest—Diamond Dust.

Although the Maroons won two games last week from the coming champions, New York failed to close the gap, owing to two defeats at the hands of Boston and Philadelphia, thus leaving the Chicago team still a couple of games in the van. Providence holds third place, closely pressed by Philadelphia, but one game behind. Boston is not far off, followed by Buffalo, while Detroit and St. Louis bring up the rear, one game apart.

On this, the final trip of the Americans, the Eastern teams are getting decidedly the best of it, and the Maroons in part their losses in the early part of the season. The West has too great an advantage and its teams too close to the wire to suffer any injury. St. Louis has a long lead of fourteen games over Cincinnati, which holds second place. Pittsburgh lags three points behind Cincinnati, while Louisville clings to fourth position. The Athletics, Brooklyn, Baltimore and Metropolitans follow in order.

DIAMOND DUST.

Crockett City and Globe close to-day. St. Louis League team has released Caskins and Lewis.

Boston has beaten Philadelphia 2 to 0 three times this season.

The League-Association games in October will be very attractive and will draw large crowds.

Louisville's latest acquisition, Ramsey, has been showing up remarkably well, but the team has not supported him.

All the remaining Association black-labeled players are to be reinstated at the end of the season.

Mullane will pitch Cincinnati's October games against the League, the American teams having consented.

The St. Louis Browns and the Lucas team will come together in October, in a series of five games, when the question will be definitely settled as to which is the stronger club.

In the Louisville-Brooklyn game of September 10, Joe Miller's play at short is considered to have been simply wonderful. He was twice at bat, had two hits, six put outs, five assists and no errors.

TRADE IMPROVING.

FAVORABLE REPORTS RECEIVED.

From Nearly All Branches of Business. Some Improvement Noted in the Iron Market—Wool Firm and Prices Strong—Furnaces in Blast.

New York, Sept. 12.—The condition of general trade, as reported to Breadstreet's by special telegrams, is quite as favorable as that mentioned at any previous date within seven weeks past. The steadiness and strength manifested by the demand for dry goods and for woolen fabrics have encouraged many dealers at eastern distributing centers to look for steadiness in the movement. It may be added that the turn in the tide has at last taken place, and that the increase in the consumption of staple commodities may preserve a steady growth. It is a welcome sign that no boom is discernible in any direction. The increased distribution of goods is formed of a larger number of moderate-sized orders and in many instances of unexpected duplicate demands.

Eastern agents and jobbers of dry goods continue to do a fair business, but as retailers are fairly well stocked up, sales are not as large as they have been. Additional brands of brown and bleached cottons have been advanced in price. Boots and shoes are in much better request, but prices are low. The features of the general situation, however, are encouraging. Anthracite coal and wheat and Indian corn and flour are all suffering from extremely depressed prices and a slack demand. These must be supplemented by reference to quite severe railway competition and want of railway facilities. Wheat coming to seaboard at 90 per 100 pounds to New York, and 60 to Baltimore, there can be little that is favorable inferred as to prospective railway earnings. The prices of the leading commodities are much higher. Corn and well known. Provisions and hog products are dull and steady. The farmers at the Northwest are refusing to market their grain at existing rates, and in many instances are preparing to hold out. Petroleum is only moderately active and is depressed to some extent by reports of renewed activity in the oil regions. Grocery staples continue to move slowly, excepting staples being active and higher. Dairy products are in slow demand.

IRON.

The improved inquiry in the eastern pig iron market noted last week still continues. Some 8,000 tons of gray large (Lahigh) have been sold in addition to the 7,000 tons sold at Troy and mentioned in last week's report. The average daily sales at New York and vicinity are about 3,000 tons. The Iron Age's report of the number of furnaces in blast on September 1 is 78 against 84 last week, with a total capacity of 2,100,000 tons against 2,050,000 tons on August 1. Of bituminous furnaces there were 88 in blast on the 1st, against 86 on August 1, with a total capacity of 2,100,000 tons against 2,050,000 tons on August 1. This shows a net decline in weekly capacity of furnaces in blast (anthracite and bituminous) during August amounting to 2,522 tons. The heaviest productive capacity was during the current week, 2,100,000 tons, against 2,050,000 tons on August 1, when the total was 67,123, against 62,453 tons on September 1. (On January 1 last the total was 53,376 tons per week.

WOOL.

At Boston the tone of the wool market is strong, prices are firmly held at the recent advances, and in one or two lines there has been a further upward movement. Ohio and Pennsylvania wool commands 31 3/8c, as last week, but XX is worth a fraction more, or 33 3/8c, and XX and above 34 3/8c. Michigan X is quoted at 33 3/8c, but goes mostly at the higher figure. Sales of Ohio fine 50s and No. 4 coming are made at 35 3/8c. Unwashed wools have been in extensive request, and extra and super-fine wools are generally at a premium over the season. Both manufacturers and speculators are operating freely, and a great degree of confidence prevails. The sales of July and August in the season market amounted to 37,100,000 pounds against 33,200,000 in the same two months of 1884. The aggregate of wool sales this week is unprecedented, amounting to 6,800,000 pounds. About 40 percent of these transactions is believed to be due to speculative purchases. The market is strong and very strong.

Trading at Philadelphia continues brisk and a large volume of business is noted in all descriptions of which the offerings are large enough to satisfy the demand. Medium wools are generally at a premium over the season. Both manufacturers and speculators are operating freely, and a great degree of confidence prevails. The sales of July and August in the season market amounted to 37,100,000 pounds against 33,200,000 in the same two months of 1884. The aggregate of wool sales this week is unprecedented, amounting to 6,800,000 pounds. About 40 percent of these transactions is believed to be due to speculative purchases. The market is strong and very strong.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 12.—Justice Richardson, who sentenced Lott to death, has received a number of letters threatening his life if he is hanged.

The impression, however, strengthens that the rebel leader will not be hanged. Several prominent French-Canadian journals are endeavoring to stir up race prejudice between that nationality and the English-speaking population. One journal calls for a "rebellion" and another urges the English to purchase nothing at their stores, and only to speak the English language when it will bring British silver into their pockets. The recent troubles in the Northwest have tended to widen the rift between the two nationalities, and it is evident that sooner or later serious complications will arise out of these differences.

CRIMINAL CASES.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—An accident, by which one man was killed outright and several other persons seriously injured, occurred at noon to-day at the corner of B-avenue and Lott street. A building which was occupied by J. W. Sherman and a grocery store was being elevated to a level with the street grade on posts. The posts gave way suddenly, and the building fell, crushing a laborer named Hugh Smith and seriously injuring others.
